

Call for Papers

Concordia International Research Conference Hanoi (CIRCH)

The 5th annual Concordia International Research Conference Hanoi (CIRCH) will be held on April 6, 2024. CIRCH is a one-day conference for students from academic institutions all over the world hosted on Concordia International School Hanoi's campus, designed to promote and further global interest in multidisciplinary research.

The conference will entertain a series of speakers in addition to an open (forum) discussion regarding presentations. Concordia International School Hanoi strongly believes that it is important to recognize students with a passion for various subjects by providing them with a medium to communicate their findings and receive constructive feedback for their work. This year's conference will be held in a hybrid format, incorporating both offline presentations for the participants who are available to attend the conference in-person and virtual presentations via an online platform, Zoom.

Research Topics: Students are allowed to submit papers in fields including but not limited to

- Big Data
- Data Science
- Technology
- Engineering
- Mathematics
- Humanities (Psychology, History, Literature, Economics, Education, etc.)

Mission and Vision Statements of CIRCH:

- To promote interdisciplinary knowledge, research techniques, higher-level writing skills, and a feedback system for high school students and university students on a national and international scale.
- To help develop high school students from consumers of knowledge to producers and co-constructors of knowledge.
- To be Asia's most-renowned high school research conference with the most international attendance.
- To encourage students' interest in innovative, rigorous, and responsible data analysis and research.

Submission Guidelines:

- The primary author should be a high school student, university student, or a university researcher. If a high school teacher supervises the high school student-authored paper, the teacher's name should be included.
- Full research papers have to be novel (first-hand analysis of data or experiments that has not been published before):
 - Paper Length: 3-5 pages
 - Presentation Abstract Submission Length: 1-2 pages;
 - Presentation Time Limit: 15 minutes
- All submissions should adhere to the prescribed two-column style and use author, year citations together with an alphabetically organized bibliography. The conference language is English. The CIRCH 2024 template to use for formatting is provided as an MS Word template (click here to download it).
- Submission of papers is via EasyChair – submitters are required to create a free account using this link

Reviewing Process and Publication:

- The authors of both successful papers and abstracts will be invited to deliver oral presentations at the conference. In order to prevent interruption caused by network issues, those who cannot participate in the conference in-person will be required to submit a pre-recorded video of their presentation. Submitted videos will be presented during the conference followed by a short discussion session.
- Excellent papers will be published in the International Conference Proceedings ACM, which will be sent to be indexed by EI Compendex and Scopus.

Time & Venue:

The conference will be held on April 6th, 2024 at Concordia International School Hanoi campus located in Hanoi, Vietnam as well as via an online platform, Zoom.

Submission Deadline:

February 18th, 2024

Contact:

For more information or to offer sponsorship, please email us at circh@concordiahanoi.org or visit our website circh.org.